

Eric K. Knox

Eric Knox currently serves as Associate Director for System Operations and External Outreach in the Office of Civilian Radioactive Waste Management, U.S. Department of Energy.

From May 2002 through June of 2005 he served as Senior Policy Advisor and Chief of Staff in the Office of the Under Secretary of Energy. Prior to that he served as Senior Policy Advisor in the Office of the Director, Office of Civilian Radioactive Waste Management, U. S. Department of Energy. He also served in OCRWM and at the White House during the Administration of President George H. W. Bush.

Mr. Knox has an extensive business and political background. He served as President and CEO of American Target Resources, LLP, a service organization representing national not-for-profit organizations. Mr. Knox has over 20 years experience working with state, local and national political candidates and party organizations. In addition to his business and political endeavors, Mr. Knox spent one year supporting global medical mission efforts working with the blind and disabled. A graduate of Clemson University, he resides in Ashburn, Virginia with his wife and two daughters.